

UNIONS IN PARADE

Organized Labor of Three Cities
Unites in Celebration in Moline.

ROCK ISLAND REPRESENTED

City's Organizations and Business Houses Make Fine Showing in Line—Program at Park.

The labor unions of the three cities joined in the official celebration of Labor day in Moline today, the parade held this morning being participated in by nearly all of the union of the tri-cities. There were several thousand men in line, and industrial floats representing business houses of Rock Island, Moline and Davenport brought up the rear of the line. The parade formed at the Moline Industrial Home building, Fourteenth street and Fifth avenue, and moved east to Twenty-third street and Sixth avenue, counter-marching on the avenue and returning to Seventeenth street. The line marched north on Seventeenth street to Third avenue, and west again on the avenue to Tenth street, then back to Fifteenth street on Fourth avenue, and finally disbanded at the Industrial Home building. Rock Island labor organizations were fully represented, between 1,500 and 2,000 men from this city being included in the parade.

The Marching Order.

The marching order of the parade was as follows, each union being represented by from 20 to 200 members:

Features of the Parade.

One of the floats of the parade that caused much merriment was that of George W. McCaskrin, candidate. In glaring letters his campaign platform was announced, a picture of an octopus representing the railways was shown, and in the wagon were several telephone poles, souvenirs of the mayor's ax swinging some months ago. The Women's Union Label league float was well decorated, and 20 members of the league were seated on the wagon. Several of the business houses' floats were in charge of young ladies, who distributed advertising matter from the wagons.

Addresses at Park.

This afternoon the celebration is being continued at Prospect park, where addresses are to be heard from various local speakers, including Mayor McCaskrin. The main address will be by J. J. Keppler of Chicago, and W. A. Johnson of Davenport. Mr. Keppler has held many high positions and is now a delegate to the Chicago Metal Trades council, and chairman of the advisory board. Mr. Johnson was the representative of the arsenal workmen at Washington and secured for them their Saturday half holiday throughout the summer.

WALTER CHAMBERS
TAKES GOLF HONORS

Wine Handicap Cup, But Ardo Mitchell and J. D. Cady Tie With Lowest Scores.

In Saturday afternoon's play on the Rock Island arsenal golf links, Walter Chambers of Davenport, captured the men's handicap cup, making a net score of 79. J. N. Van Patten was second with a net of 80. Ardo Mitchell and J. D. Cady were tied for the low score honors, both making 84. The course was in good condition, though quite dry. The high wind was accountable for the few players that participated in the match. There were but 35, and 12 of these were unfinished. The scores were:

TRAGEDY OF LOVE

Repulsed Suitor Kills a Young Woman and Himself

ON SCOTT COUNTY ROAD

Harry Dreter Murders Miss Grace Reed, Wounds Her Accepted Suitor, Sam Moore, Then Suicides.

A tragedy that took place Sunday night on the Jersey Ridge road, about twelve miles northeast of Davenport, resulted in the killing of Harry Dreter, a prominent young farmer of Scott county, and Miss Grace Reed, a young lady 17 years of age, with whom Dreter was in love, but who had repulsed his attentions. Sam Moore, the accepted suitor of Miss Reed, is seriously wounded. The two Dreter brothers, Harry and Ora, live on adjoining farms on the Jersey Ridge road. Harry Dreter was single, and about 30 years of age. With his brother, Ora Dreter, Miss Reed made her home. The brother and his family had taken the girl's part against Harry Dreter.

Shot While Driving.

Sunday evening Sam Moore called at the Dreter home and took Miss Reed driving. They attended service at the Summit church, and were nearing the girl's home, when Harry Dreter stepped from behind a tree, where he had concealed himself, and pointed a Winchester shot gun at the couple. Moore called to Dreter not to shoot, and ducked his head. Dreter discharged the gun, the shot entering the girl's head and face, killing her almost instantly. Moore received part of the shot in his arm and side, and suffered fractures of several ribs. The horse became frightened, and overturned the rig into a ditch. A physician was called, and attended Moore's injuries.

Murderer Takes Own Life.

Immediately after the shooting Dreter walked to the north side of his home, and took his own life. No one ventured near until Sheriff McArthur and deputies made an examination, when they found the lifeless body of Dreter. Dreter had placed the barrel in his mouth, and the shot literally blew his head off.

Before leaving the house Dreter had warned his housekeeper to keep her head within doors, and mind her own business, or he would blow her head off. The housekeeper had left the house by a side door, and gone to the home of Ora Dreter. Mrs. Mary J. Dreter, the dead man's mother, resides at 858 East Fifteenth street, Davenport.

Coroner Lambach is in charge of the case.

The man's body will be interred in Davenport, and the remains of Miss Reed buried at Summit.

UNIDENTIFIED BODY
TAKEN FROM RIVER

Probably in Water Several Weeks—Discovered Above Bridge on Davenport Side.

A body of a man, presumed to be a laborer, was found floating in the river this morning near Lindsey & Phelps' saw mill, Davenport. He wore blue overalls and a blue coat. The condition of the body leads the authorities to believe that he had been in the water for three or four weeks. The body is at the Boies undertaking rooms and has not been identified.

RIVER RIPELETS.

Boats down were the St. Paul, J. P. Pearson, and Ellipse. Those north were the Sidney, J. P. Pearson, Zalus Davis, North Star, and Ellipse. The Helen Blair was up from Muscatine. The stage of water was 5.1 at 6 a. m. and 5.15 at noon.

Many on Excursion.

Several hundred people took advantage of the excursion to Muscatine today on the Helen Blair. The steamer left here at 11 o'clock this morning and will return this evening at 7 o'clock.

KILLED BY A CAR

Little Daughter of W. P. Halligan of Davenport Falls Under Wheels.

ACCIDENT SATURDAY NIGHT

Though Frightfully Crushed She Survived Till Early Sunday Morning.

Marie Halligan, a 11 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Halligan, 905 Farnam street, Davenport, was fatally injured by a Central Park car on Brady street, Davenport, Saturday evening. She was removed to St. Luke's hospital where she passed away about 9 o'clock yesterday morning.

The little girl was out driving Saturday evening with her father and little brother. At about 8:30 o'clock they went into Mr. Halligan's office just below the viaduct on the east side of Brady street and, while they were in there, Mr. Halligan remarked that there was some meat at Robeson's market cross the street which had to be called for.

"I'll go and get it, papa," said the girl and started across the street.

Hit By Car.

As she was crossing, a Central park car came down the hill and under the viaduct. The girl saw it, but believed she could cross in front of it. She tried to do so but was hit and picked up by the fender. Then, however, she fell off on the side and, after being dragged by the fender a short distance, fell under the truck and the wheels caught her.

The thigh and shinbones of her right leg were both fractured, the pelvic arch was crushed and the entire lower part of her body cruelly mangled.

A DAYLIGHT JOB

Burglars Boldly at Work in Business District Just Before Noon

ON SEVENTEENTH STREET

Office of Dr. Rush Crissman is Entered, and Metal and Coins Valued at $500 Are Stolen.

One of the boldest robberies here for months, occurred this morning, and the job indicates that the burglars think it is an easy matter for them to operate in Rock Island. The burglary occurred in broad daylight and on a public street. Dr. Rush Crissman's office, Seventeenth street and Third avenue, was raided and goods to the value of about $500 taken. The burglars entered the office some time between 11:40 and 12:10 and gained their entrance through the outside door by breaking the glass.

Take Metal and Coins.

Dr. Crissman was at his office at 11:40 and returned again at 12:10. When he returned he discovered all the filling gold, plated gold and some completed dental work, a pair of field glasses valued at $25, six dozen triple plated spoons, and a box of cigars, had been stolen. Office linen and a valuable collection of coins was included in the booty. The police have been notified, but have no clue. The plate glass door was broken, entrance thus being gained.
